Club Med Punta Cana Offers Access to Tom Fazio-designed Corales Golf Course

Club Med Guests Now Enjoy Their Choice of Two Premier Caribbean Golf Courses

MIAMI (December XX, 2009) – Club Med \(www.clubmed.us\) Punta Cana guests now have privileged access to the Tom Fazio-designed Corales golf course. Corales joins La Cana, a beach-front golf course designed by Peter Dye, as one of two golf courses with special package rates offered exclusively to Club Med guests.

Completed in October 2009, the Corales golf course sits between rocky cliffs and the shimmering Caribbean Sea and challenges all levels of golfers, surprising even the most skilled with its six oceanfront holes, multiple lines of approach and picturesque canyons. Known to offer the toughest finishing holes in the world, the Corales' final three holes are aptly named "El Codo del Diablo" or "The Devil's Elbow."

"Combine world-class golfing with upscale services, first rate amenities, captivating children's programs and a tropical paradise and you've found Club Med Punta Cana. For golfers and their family members, Club Med Punta Cana in the Dominican Republic has it all," said Sabina Sicuso, Vice President Marketing, Club Med North America.

Golf Packages for 2010:

- Guests will benefit from an exclusive 5 percent discount on published rates at both courses when signing up at the resort.
- A single round of 18-holes at Corales starts at $224.
- A two round package that includes 18-holes at La Cana and Corales each, starts at $272.
- A three round package that includes two rounds at La Cana and one round at Corales starts at $352.
